Thank you for being a loyal Allstate customer—we're happy to have you with us!

Here's your automobile insurance renewal offer for the next six months. We've also included a guide to what's in this package and answers to some common questions.

Allstate Identity Theft Expenses Coverage

With your policy about to renew, now is the perfect time for you to determine whether the coverage you have is suited to the risks you face today. That's why we'd like you to know about our affordable Identity Theft Expenses Coverage option. It's designed to help reimburse you for covered expenses and the hassles of restoring your good name if your identity is stolen with this increasingly common type of theft.

Why this coverage is important

Identity theft is a relatively new but growing crime that can lead to refused loans, lost job opportunities, and even arrest for crimes never committed. Now you can purchase our optional coverage to help restore your identity if you become a victim of this crime.

A small price now can help with higher costs later

If you are currently receiving the Good Driver discount, you can purchase Identity Theft Expenses Coverage for just $15 per policy period and no deductible. The cost is $20 per policy period for those without the Good Driver discount. With this coverage, we'll reimburse you for covered expenses you incur to help restore your identity, up to a coverage limit of $25,000.

While some products out there today may provide less reimbursement and leave you to deal with creditors, banks, and government agencies on your own, Allstate goes a step further. We may also refer you to an identity theft restoration services company that can help you sort out the effects of an identity theft* with creditors and government agencies.

Do you have the coverage you need?

As you review your Policy Declarations, consider whether you'd like to update your policy to include Identity Theft Expenses Coverage. To add this coverage, or to make any changes to your policy, feel free to call your Allstate Agent at (626) 463-2357. For more detailed information about Identity Theft Expenses Coverage, please refer to the enclosed "Identity Theft Expenses Coverage—Coverage for Identity Theft Victims" information at the back of this mailing.

Allstate Has Discounts Available on Your Auto Premium

We have several discounts available to our auto insurance customers. For your information, here is a listing of our discounts, including a brief description of each. (Certain rating information and any discounts that you're currently receiving are shown on the enclosed Policy Declarations.)

Distinguished Driver Discount—The Distinguished Driver Discount applies to most major auto coverages. To qualify, the rated operator on a vehicle must meet certain requirements, including those explained below:

- For the past three years, the rated operator must have been licensed to drive a motor vehicle;
- The rated operator has had no traffic violation convictions for the past three years; and
- The rated operator has remained accident-free for the past five years, or has been less than 51% at fault in any accident that has occurred during the past five years and for which no claim payment was made.

In addition, rated operators that have had no traffic violation convictions or accidents for even longer consecutive time periods may qualify for an even larger Distinguished Driver Discount amount.

The Distinguished Driver Discount is applied on a per vehicle basis. Therefore, if a vehicle does not have an assigned operator, the Distinguished Driver Discount will apply only if all operators in the household qualify for the Distinguished Driver Discount.

Multiple Policy Discount—You may qualify for a discount on most major auto coverages if you or your spouse or registered domestic partner are also the named insured on a qualifying Allstate Insurance Company Homeowners, Condominium Owners, Mobile Home Owners, or Renters policy that covers the principal place of residence. If you or your spouse or registered domestic partner are the named insured on a qualifying Allstate individual life insurance policy written prior to October 11, 2021, or Allstate Personal Umbrella Policy, you may qualify for a discount on most of your major auto coverages.

Good Driver Discount—Depending on your driving experience and information in your driving record, such as the number of traffic violation convictions or accidents, you could be eligible for a 20% discount on your auto insurance premiums.

Defensive Driver Discount—Drivers age 55 or older who provide proof of successful completion of a Mature Driver Improvement Course approved by the California Department of Motor Vehicles may qualify for a 5% discount on some coverages. In order to be eligible, the driver must have voluntarily attended the course. This discount will be applied for three years after successful completion of the course; in order to continue to receive the discount after this three-year period, the course must again be successfully completed and proof presented.

Anti-Theft Device Discount—You may be eligible to receive a discount on your comprehensive coverage if you have a qualifying anti-theft device installed on your car.

Occasional Operator Discount—You may be eligible to receive a discount on most major auto coverages if the rated operator on a vehicle has been licensed for less than nine years and has 25% or less use of the vehicle.

Good Student Discount—You may be eligible to receive a discount on most major auto coverages if you have an unmarried driver on your policy who is a full-time student (high school, college, or academic home study program) and meets certain scholastic and other requirements.

teenSMART™ Discount—You may be eligible to receive a discount on most major auto coverages if you have a rated operator who is single, has been licensed five years or less, and completes the teenSMART™ program. The teenSMART™ program is a home study driver training program designed to help reduce the chances of your young driver being involved in an accident. Successfully completing the program can earn a discount of up to 15% on most major coverages provided by your auto policy.

Other Rating Factors—In addition to the discounts described above, we offer a number of special rates that can lower your premium. For example, you may be eligible to receive a lower rate if your insured auto (model year 2000 or earlier) is on our list of "economy cars." Ask your Allstate Agent for details about our special rates.

The premium for your insurance policy is based on a variety of factors, including information you have given us. Factors that can affect your premium include, for example, annual mileage driven, years of licensed driving experience and driving record. It is important that you notify us if the information upon which your premium is based is incorrect, incomplete, or changes, so that we may adjust your premium accordingly.

This notice provides only a general description of the qualifications and conditions for the discounts and special rates shown above. Other qualifications and conditions may apply. For complete details on qualifications and conditions, how your premium is determined, or if you have any questions about the information in this notice, including whether you may qualify for one or more discounts or special rates or whether your premium is accurate, please call your Allstate Agent.

Identity Theft Expenses Coverage
Coverage for Identity Theft Victims

While modern technology has made our lives easier, it's also made it easier for thieves to commit identity theft.

Thieves begin by gaining access to personal information such as your Social Security number, date of birth and driver's license number. They then use this information to set up fake accounts, open loans, rent housing, secure employment or even obtain medical care-all without you even knowing.

As this crime grows increasingly common, consumers need options for dealing with the costs and hassles related to identity theft—that's why we're offering Identity Theft Expenses Coverage.

For a very low price, you can get help to restore your good name.
Now Allstate has a product that can help you if your identity is stolen. You can add this optional coverage to your auto policy for just a few dollars a month—a small price to pay for peace of mind. While other insurance companies typically require a deductible for similar protection, with Allstate there is no deductible.

If you are currently receiving the Good Driver discount, you can purchase Identity Theft Expenses Coverage for just $15 per policy period and no deductible. The cost is $20 per policy period for those without the Good Driver discount.

Allstate takes Identity Theft Expenses Coverage a step further.
If you purchase this coverage we'll reimburse you for covered expenses you incur to restore your identity up to a $25,000 coverage limit. That's more than most companies offer for this type of coverage. This coverage includes reimbursement for:

- Attorneys fees (subject to applicable coverage limits)—in case you need to hire an attorney to defend you if lawsuits are brought against you by merchants or collection agencies, if you need help to remove criminal or civil judgments wrongly entered against you, or to challenge information contained in your credit report.
- Lost wage recovery (up to $250/day with a $5,000 cap)—this will help cover wages or salary you may lose if you need to take time off work to complete affidavits or meet with law enforcement agencies, financial institutions, credit grantors, credit reporting agencies or attorneys.
- Loan reapplication fees—this helps cover your expenses if you need to reapply for loans denied you solely because the lender received incorrect information due to identity theft.
- Other expenses—may cover other expenses involved in restoring your identity, such as mailing costs, notary expenses and long distance phone calls.

You can get help if you become a victim.
If you become a victim of identity theft, you probably won't know all that is involved in restoring your name. There are many issues you may need help with, including:

- Understanding your rights as an identity theft victim.
- Filling out paperwork, including police reports.
- Issuing a Fraud Alert to the three major credit bureaus, as well as Social Security Administration, Federal Trade Commission, and U.S. Postal Service.
- Obtaining copies of your credit bureau reports.
- Working with the three major credit bureaus to restore the accuracy of your credit history.
- Reviewing your credit history to verify if fraud includes items such as public records, (liens, judgments, bankruptcies); credit accounts; or errors with addresses/prior employment.
- Issuing a fraud alert to affected financial institutions and credit card companies.
- Tracing Social Security numbers, notifying and working with the Department of Motor Vehicles, collection agencies for creditors, and law enforcement personnel.

This may seem overwhelming, but our Identity Theft Expenses Coverage can help. With it, if you decide to hire a firm to help you address identity theft issues such as these, you will have up to $2,000 available to pay for their services. In addition, we may refer you to a firm that specializes in addressing the effects of identity theft.* In either case, if you have this coverage you'll have peace of mind knowing you can get help to restore your identity.

Are you in Good Hands®?
With Allstate you have 75 years of business experience behind you. That means you're getting more than great products and service. You get a team of people who know insurance and give you the freedom to manage your insurance your way. To sign up for Identity Theft Expenses Coverage, or for more information, just call your Allstate agent or 1-800-ALLSTATE®, or log on to allstate.com.

 Referrals, if any, are solely at the discretion of Allstate. Identity Theft Expenses Coverage is subject to qualifications, availability and policy terms. Please read the policy endorsement carefully.*

Reasons for Extension, Cancellation or Nonrenewal

California law requires Allstate to provide you with reasons why your policy may be extended, canceled or nonrenewed or your premium increased.

Allstate may cancel or nonrenew your policy for one or more of the following reasons:

- Nonpayment of premium;
- Fraud or material misrepresentation affecting the policy or the insured; or
- Substantial increase in the hazard we insure against.

In addition, your policy may be nonrenewed or your premium may be increased for any of the following reasons:

- Accident involvement by an insured and whether the insured is at fault in the accident;
- A change in, or addition of, an insured vehicle;
- A change in, or addition of, an insured under the policy;
- A change in the location of garaging of an insured vehicle;
- A change in the use of an insured vehicle;
- Conviction for violating any provision of the Vehicle Code or Penal Code relating to the operation of a motor vehicle;
- The payment made by an insurer due to a claim filed by an insured or a third party;
- Any other reason that is lawful and not unfairly discriminatory.

Accidents and convictions for violating any provision of the Vehicle Code or Penal code relating to the operation of a motor vehicle that occur within the 36-month period ending on the effective date of the policy may lead to an increase of your premium. You have the right to be informed, upon your request, of any increase in premium, in whole or in part, charged to you because of an accident or conviction.

Under certain circumstances, if we fail to send your renewal offer at least 20 days prior to your renewal effective date or if we fail to send your nonrenewal notice at least 30 days prior to the nonrenewal effective date, California law requires us to extend your existing policy term for 30 days from the date the notice is mailed or delivered to you.

Other Uninsured Motorist Coverage Options

Your policy has been issued with the coverages and options you requested. Please refer to the enclosed Policy Declarations to verify that your policy has been issued according to your requests.

However, please be aware that you still have options concerning coverage for damages to your insured auto that you are legally entitled to recover from the owner or operator of an uninsured motor vehicle.

The following options are available for each vehicle under your policy. Please see your Policy Declarations to determine your current coverages for each of your vehicles.

- If your vehicle is insured for Auto Collision Insurance, we are offering a Waiver of your Collision Coverage Deductible to apply when the vehicle is damaged in an accident caused by an uninsured motor vehicle.
- If your vehicle is not insured for Auto Collision Insurance and is insured for Uninsured Motorists Insurance for bodily injury, we are offering you the opportunity to extend your Uninsured Motorists Insurance to cover property damage.
- You still have the option of rejecting either the Waiver of Collision Coverage Deductible or Uninsured Motorists Insurance for property damage, or both coverages.

If a vehicle insured under your policy is damaged by an uninsured motor vehicle and you are legally entitled to recover damages, we will, depending on the coverage you purchase, either:

- Pay the collision deductible on the insured motor vehicle when you have purchased collision coverage, or
- Pay for the damage to the insured motor vehicle when you have not purchased collision coverage but have purchased Uninsured Motorists Insurance for property damage.

Payment shall not include damage to personal property or loss of use of a motor vehicle and shall not exceed the smaller of:

- The amount of the collision deductible,
- The actual cash value of the insured motor vehicle,
- $3500.

The law also permits you to reject these coverages completely.

If you would like to purchase one of these coverages or make any other changes concerning these coverage options, please call your Allstate Agent.

Your Vehicle's Annual Mileage Verification

Allstate considers many factors when determining the auto premiums of our customers. One of these factors is the annual mileage of the vehicles we insure.

Your Annual Mileage
In order to obtain this important information, we will send you a questionnaire before the next annual renewal of your policy and on an annual basis for as long as your policy is active. We ask that you please complete this questionnaire and return it to us. Please be sure to provide current odometer and usage information for your insured vehicle(s) where indicated on the form.

The annual mileage amount we currently have on file for your insured vehicle is listed on the enclosed Policy Declarations under the "Rating Information" section.

If We Do Not Receive a Completed Form
When you receive the mileage questionnaire, please be sure to provide the required mileage information for every vehicle listed on the questionnaire. Also, please note that if we do not receive information for a vehicle shown on the form before your next annual renewal, we will proceed with the following process for that vehicle:

1. We will attempt to obtain your vehicle's odometer information from a third-party vendor. If the necessary information is available, we will determine your annual mileage from this information.
2. If your vehicle's odometer information is not available from this vendor, we will increase the last annual mileage amount in our records by 1,000 miles (subject to a three-year limitation).

Voluntary Provider Networks

We want to let you know about a program that may be available to you.

If you, or anyone covered under your policy, is injured in a loss covered under your auto policy, a Voluntary Provider Network may be available to you. A Voluntary Provider Network includes a variety of participating medical providers that can treat those injuries.

Voluntary Provider Networks maintain lists of their participating providers. In the event that you experience a loss, your claims representative can provide you with contact information for any participating Allstate networks that may be available in your state at that time.

You are under no obligation to use a medical provider who is a member of one of these networks, and you are free to seek medical services from a provider of your choice. There is no penalty if you choose a provider outside the network. If you are injured and treated by a provider who is a member of one of the participating networks, we may review their bills for covered medical services for re-pricing based on the approved rate for that provider's network.

You do not need to make a choice about these networks at this time. Please keep in mind that using a provider within a network should not be considered a confirmation that you have coverage. This notice is for informational purposes only.

This change may affect your premium and any discounts currently on your policy.
