Important information about the Good Driver Discount

The Good Driver Discount gives a driver the opportunity to receive a discount for having a good driving history.

Depending on your driving experience and information in your driving record, (such as the number of traffic violation convictions or accidents), you could be eligible for a 20% discount on your auto insurance premiums.

Please Note: If a driver is no longer eligible for a Good Driver Discount policy because of the driving safety record or years of driving experience of any other person, the good driver is eligible to purchase a Good Driver Discount policy which excludes such other persons from coverage. If you want to exclude such other persons from your auto policy so that Allstate can offer you the Good Driver Discount policy, please contact your Allstate agent or representative. This change may affect your premium and any discounts currently on your policy.

Questions?

If you think you may qualify, have any questions regarding the Good Driver Discount or your coverage in general, please feel free to contact your Allstate agent or representative.
